13 [Callander, John]. TERRA AUSTRALIS COGNITA: or, Voyages to the Terra Australis, or Southern Hemisphere, during the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, and Eighteenth Centuries. Containing an Account of the Manners of the People, and the Productions of the Countries, hitherto found in the Southern Latitudes; the Advantages that may result from further discoveries on this great Continent, and the Methods of establishing Colonies there, to the advantage of Great Britain. With a Preface by the Editor, in which some geographical, nautical, and commercial Questions are discussed. 3 vols., Facsimile Edition; Vol. I, pp. [iv], [vi], viii, 516; Vol. II, pp. [iv], ii, [3]-692; Vol. III, pp. [iv], iv, 748(last 3 blank); 3 folding charts by Robert de Vaugondy (in front of each volume); original vinyl; a fine set. Amsterdam; N. Israel; (1967). Bibliotheca Australiana Nos. 8-10. First published at Edinburgh, Printed by A. Donaldson, 1766-68. CALLANDER based his work on the notable French work by DE BROSSES (Histoire des Navigations aux Terres Australes, 2 vols., Paris, Durand, 1756, and the maps are taken directly from it. Included are accounts of the navigations of Amerigo Vespucci, de Gonneville, Magellan, de Saavedra, Francisco de Ulloa, Gaetan, de Mendoza, Drake, da Silva, Pedro Sarmiento, Fenton, Cavendish, de Quiros, Spilbergen, Le Maire, Schouten, Jacques l’Hermite, Pelsaert, Pool, Tasman, Narborough, Sharp, Cowley, Dampier, Vlaming, Funnell, Woodes Rogers, Frezier, Clipperston, Shelvocke, Roggewein, Lozier Bouvet, Anson, Byron, and many others. The work includes FULLER’S notes to Cavendish’s voyage, and the final part of Volume III consists of - “Of the method of forming colonies in the Terra Australis, and the Advantages that may be expected to result to Great Britain, from such Establishments in that Hemisphere.” This, no doubt, was inspired by the proposal for the colonisation of New Holland put forward by DE BROSSES in his work. #4980  A$550.00

Ou l'on traite des differens Terroirs de tous ces Pais, de leurs Ports, des Plantes, des Fruits, & des Animaux qu'on y trouve: de leurs Habitans, de leurs Coutumes, de leur Religion, de leur Gouvernement, de leur Negoce &c. Par Guillaume Dampier. Enrichi de Cartes & de Figures. Seconde Edition revue corrigee & augmentee d'un volume. Tome Premier. A Amsterdam, Paul Marret, Marchand Libraire dans le Beurs-straat a la Renommee. M DCCI. Pp. [xiv], 340, [4](Publisher's catalogue, last blank); 4 folding charts, frontis. & 4 plates (2 folding); a small paper flaw to pp. 25/6 with loss of a few letters on 4 lines.

Volume II: [Part I] Suite du Voyage autour du Monde; avec un Traite des Vents Qui regnent dans toute Zone Torride. Par le Sieur Dampier. Tome II. A Amsterdam, Chez Paul Marret, Marchand Libraire, dans le Beurstraat. 1701. Pp. [vi], 228(last blank), 4; frontis., 2 full-page charts & 3 plates (1 folding). [Part II] Traite des Vents alisez ou reglez, des Vents Frais De Mer & de Terre, des Tempetes, des Saisons de l'Annee, des Marees, & des Courans De toute la Zone Torride. Par le Sr. Dampier, Capitaine sur Mer. [Imprint as for Part I]. Pp. 104(incl. frontis.); frontis., 2 folding charts, 2 folding plates. [In all 4 charts & 7 plates including frontispieces].

total 17 charts (15 folding), 52 plates (33 folding) and 2 text illustrations; title-pages in red and black; full contemporary speckled calf, with red-sprinkled edges; all volumes neatly rebacked to style with raised bands and gilt lettering, endpapers restored using contemporary paper; internally generally fine, clean and crisp, with only the odd spot; a fine, very attractive set; rare. Amsterdam; Paul Marret; 1701-1712. Detailed collations and bibliographical information on this work are hard to come by, however we believe this set to be quite complete. The first two volumes were first published in 1698 (see Sabin 18381). These volumes did not contain the second part of the present Volume II (Traite des Ventes - see Sabin 18384) and Sabin (in his 18381) refers to a second edition of the two volumes in the same year (1698) presumably of similar configuration to the first. Sabin also refers to a third volume (“Suplement ...”) and a fourth (“Voyage ... aux Terres Australes”) both published in MDCCXI (1711), but these are clearly reprints of the volumes here present (1701 and 1705 respectively). Part II to the present Volume II, with its separate title-page, is the first appearance in French of the Treatise on the Winds and clearly was intended to be bound with Part I (as indicated by the catchword on the last page of adverts. to Part I). Sabin’s 18382 refers to several editions in a rather confused and unsatisfactory manner, which may in effect include the present collection. In summary this is a fine set of the first complete edition in French, volumes III, IV and V being the first editions in French, and Volumes I and II being the first complete (augmented) editions; a rare and desirable collection, seldom encountered. #26377

Duperrey, Louis Isidore. Voyage Autour du Monde, Execute par Ordre du Roi, Sur la Corvette de Sa Majeste, La Coquille, pendant les années 1822, 1823, 1824 et 1825, Sous le Ministère de S. E. M. le Marquis de Clermont-Tonnerre, et publie sous les auspices de son excellence M. le Cte. de Chabrol, Ministre de la Marine et des Colonies, par L. I. Duperrey, Chevalier de St. Louis et de la Legion d’Honneur, Capitaine de Fregate, Commandant de l’Expedition. Histoire du Voyage. Atlas. Paris, Arthus Bertrand, Libraire-Editeur, rue Hautefeuille, No. 23. 1826. Super royal folio; engraved title and 60 engraved plates, 59 of these in the most superb hand-colouring, some also partly printed in colours; (a short repaired tear to margin only of first plate, not affecting image; a couple of plates with light diffuse spotting; extreme margins of a few others lightly dust-soiled or mildly frayed); bound in quarter morocco, with papered sides, the original printed wrapper mounted on front board, together with an original livraison label; a fine, generally clean copy; rare. Paris; Arthus Bertrand; 1826. Ferguson 1069; Hill 2, No. 517; Hocken, page 42; Sabin 21353; Borba de Moraes, page 275. The work is one of the rarer French voyages and the plates include 9 of New Zealand and its inhabitants, 19 of New Guinea and the neighbouring islands, 10 of the Caroline Islands, and 14 superb plates of Tahiti and the Society Islands. Of the plates 39 were drawn by Lejeune & Chazal, 15 by Chazal alone, 2 by de Blosseville & Chazal, 3 by Duperrey & Chazal and 1 by Duperrey. The very fine engraving was done entirely by Ambroise Tardieu, both the engraving and the colouring is of the highest standard and these plates are amongst the finest ever produced, in any country and at any time. The title-page also is a work of art, designed by C. F. Ermeler and engraved by Abel Malo. Duperrey was captain of the “Uranie” on de Freycinet’s voyage, and in charge of hydrographic research on that expedition. He was appointed to command of the new expedition in 1822 and allocated the corvette “La Coquille”, with Dumont d’Urville as second-in-command. The purpose of this new voyage was to be scientific and on the 11th August the ship left Toulon with a young crew, only Duperrey himself, Dumont d’Urville and another officer being over 30. The expedition called first at Brazil and went then to the Falklands, where they saw the rock which had proved the undoing of the “Uranie”. After a short stay to repair the ship and make botanical and other observations, the “Coquille” rounded Cape Horn and called at Concepcion in Chile where the poverty of the inhabitants appalled Duperrey. The expedition then continued to Peru and into the Pacific to the Tuamotus where a new island was discovered and named Clermont-Tonnerre, but is now known as Reao. At Tahiti they found that European influences had had a profound effect on the natives, although some of the missionary puritanism was apparently only skin deep. After passing Niue the ship was affected by adverse weather and only after much backtracking did the expedition reach the Solomons from where they headed for Amboina in the Dutch East Indies, and thence to Timor. They next visited Port Jackson and then New Zealand where the Maoris were reported to be accomplished thieves and anxious to procure firearms with which to murder their compatriots. At Rotuma, however they found the natives more congenial if no less thievishly inclined. They made some new discoveries in the Gilbert Islands and more in the Carolines but the names assigned have not been retained. After sailing along the New Guinea coast and through the Indonesian islands to Surabaya which they left after two weeks the expedition returned via Mauritius, Bourbon and St. Helena where a romantic pilgrimage was made to Napoleon’s residence, which was however in a bad state of repair. This fact however is not particularly evident in the fine plate of this building in this Atlas Histoire. Although the new geographical discoveries were not great, the hydrographic work was of a very high standard and corrected many errors on the earlier charts. The scientific achievements were no less important: meteorological observations of sea and air temperatures and atmospheric pressure were taken six times daily over the entire period of 31 months and important measurements of magnetic variation were made. As with the other French voyages a massive collection of specimens was brought back to France, including 300 geological samples, 1200 insects of which 450 were not previously available, as well as over 300 birds, mammals and reptiles, and nearly 300 fishes, 80 being new to science. The anthropological observations were also very extensive and the drawings of artefacts, weapons and clothing were particularly comprehensive, many of these being illustrated in the atlases, some of which are shown in this Atlas Histoire. #23368

Med. 8vo, First Edition; pp. xviii, 230(last blank); 13 maps, 28 plates (11 coloured), glossary, 4 appendices, extensive notes, bibliography, index; original papered boards; a fine copy in dustwrapper; scarce. Melbourne; Melbourne University Press; 1994. Number 16 in the fine series of books published under the Miegunyah Press imprint and a superb and interesting production. The French explorer, Marion Dufresne has been largely neglected by French, English and Australian writers alike, but he reached Tasmania before the English and his expedition was the first to encounter the Tasmanian Aborigines and amongst the earliest of the European visitors to New Zealand. His life is remarkable for its high adventure and the parallels with the life of the great English navigator, James Cook. He played a part in the rescue from Scotland of Bonnie Prince Charlie, made numerous voyages to the East, including amongst his discoveries the most westerly islands of the Indian Ocean. Like Cook, he was a brilliant mariner who learned his craft in merchant shipping before joining the French Royal Navy, was involved in scientific efforts to observe the transit of Venus, and perished (in New Zealand) at the hands of Polynesian natives. This excellent and well-produced biography fills a glaring gap in the exploration literature and we recommend it highly. Only 1000 copies were printed and it was soon out-of-print. #42680

Robert Jarman, the son of a printer at Beccles, joined the crew as a young man of twenty years on a whaling voyage to the South Seas in 1831. During the next three to four years young Robert’s forecastle jottings were transformed into a lively and well-crafted tale. The primary theme is the hard, unrelenting search for whales, reflected in Jarman’s methodical recording of encounters with other whalers and elaborated with graphic descriptions of the excitements and dangers of whaling with the inevitable accidents, injuries, and tragic deaths. After cruising the Japan Sea, the ship reached the Hawaiian Islands at the end of October 1832 and anchored at Honolulu. “The author noted 18 whalers in port. He describes the harbor and the method by which ships were towed in, and the Honolulu Fort, and the town and its native people” (Forbes). He tells also of surviving gales and near disaster when the Japan was dismasted in a hurricane, which forced the stricken ship to Sydney for extensive repairs. Jarman gives an interesting account of Sydney, with perceptive comments on convicts and their management and the Aboriginals and their customs including the use of the boomerang. Subsequently the ship cruised around Rotuma, the Fiji Islands and New Zealand before returning to England. Along the way Jarman gives accounts of visits to bays and islands to trade for fresh provisions, and of longer stays at various ports for wood, water and to benefit the crew. A welcome respite from the rigors and grinding repetition of shipboard life, Jarman was obviously captivated by those of the natives who were friendly, and he perceptively and sympathetically described their modes of life, customs, and the effects of European intercourse and colonization. The scope and appeal of this book is enhanced by some lengthy passages on natural history, including observations on the social behaviour of sperm whales and encounters with sharks, other fish and birds. Because of several chance but pertinent events he was able to include commentaries on several dramatic episodes of Pacific maritime history, such as the Bligh mutiny and its aftermath, and recent massacres of ships crews by islanders -- a constant fear for lightly-armed visiting whalers. #27822

VOYAGE DE DECOUVERTES AUX TERRES AUSTRALES. HISTORIQUE, Atlas par Mm. Lesueur et Petit. Seconde edition. Paris, 1824. Chez Arthus Bertrand, Libraire, rue Haute-Feuille. 2 parts, roy. 4to; [Part I], engraved title, with illustration within circle, 34 fine plates (numbered 2-7, 8-10, 12-14, 19, 21-24, 26, 28-31, 38-39, 41, 43-44, 48-55); [Part II], pp. [x](Explanatory Table of Contents); double-page map (numbered 1) and 33
fine plates (numbered 8, 11, 15-18, 20, 25, 27, 32-34, 37, 40, 42, 45-47, 35-36 and 56-68); in all comprising the double-page map of Australia from the surveys made on the voyage, but with Flinders’ names substituted for the French ones used for the first edition chart, 7 full-page charts, 2 fine double-page views (one of Sydney by Lesueur, & one of Timor), 27 fine hand-coloured engraved plates & 31 uncoloured plates including 2 of native music, 1 of native drawings and a plan of Sydney; the two parts as issued in contemporary French quarter calf, with green papered sides (the spine to the first part very worn and partly defective; some occasional foxing to margins and tissue interleaves but a fine set); very rare. Paris; Arthus Bertrand; 1824. The two parts of this atlas once belonged to Franklin H. Delano, the grandfather of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and carry his bookplate in the front of each part. The somewhat unusual arrangement of plates is clearly original, and not unprecedented. We have inspected a number of copies of this atlas with unusual plate arrangements and have had reports of various “hybrid” issues with a mix of plates from the two editions. The present copy is however quite complete with the full complement of second edition plates. It seems likely that these publisher’s bindings were intended as temporary clothing only and would usually have been rebound, with the plates numerically ordered in a single volume of the purchaser’s choice: this was the usual outcome, nearly all copies encountered today having been rebound either early and/or late in their history. See Ferguson 978 & 979; Wantrup 82; NMM cat. 640; Sabin 60999; this edition not in Hill. The superb plates in the atlas (25 more than in the first edition) include 12 portraits (5 coloured) of NAMED Aborigines by Nicholas Petit, 11 fine zoological plates (8 coloured), 17 of native weapons, artefacts including musical instruments, canoes, habitations, etc., 6 fine coloured plates of Timor & Solor natives, & 3 of Africans (2 coloured) and 11 fine zoological plates
(8 coloured). The coloured plates are some of the finest ever done in an account of a voyage to Australia. The expedition, with two vessels, le Geographe and le Naturaliste, under the command of Nicolas Baudin, was sent in 1800 to conduct a cartographic survey of the Australian continent, and although at the time it was thought to be politically inspired, it was a purely scientific voyage. Louis-Claude de Freycinet was cartographer to the expedition, and was later to lead his own world voyage in the ships l’Uranie and la Physicienne; while Francois Peron was naturalist. Unfortunately Baudin was not a particularly competent leader and his authority was constantly undermined by the scheming and politically motivated Peron. The voyage was also plagued by ill-health and at Mauritius on the voyage out, over 40 of the scientists and crew deserted. The expedition met with the Australian coast at Cape Leeuwin, and the two vessels becoming separated, sailed to Timor, where they were re-united. When eventually, after re-surveying parts of Van Diemen’s Land, Baudin followed his original orders and commenced a survey of the south coast of Australia from the East, he met Flinders at Encounter Bay. After this meeting Baudin took the expedition to Sydney where the Geographe was refitted and the crew rested, and where it was decided to send the Naturaliste back to France with the specimens already collected (see below). To replace this vessel, the Casuarina was purchased from Governor King and Freycinet was put in command. While in Sydney, the aggressive Peron took advantage of his host’s hospitality by preparing a report on the defences of the settlement which he later submitted to General Decaen with the recommendation that Sydney be destroyed at the earliest opportunity as it later might not be so readily achieved. After the stay in Sydney, the expedition returned to surveying the South Coast and discovered and charted the south coast of Kangaroo Island. After some further surveying along the west and north-west coast including a second visit to Timor, the expedition returned to France via Mauritius, where unhappily Baudin died. In spite of the failure of the expedition to complete its allotted tasks and the untimely death of its commander the scientific achievements were outstanding and many hundreds of plants were illustrated and described and in addition a collection of over eighteen thousand zoological specimens was amassed, together with observations on numerous subjects - all this with a complement greatly reduced (both in scientific staff & crew) by desertion and illness! Baudin’s death meant that the official account of the expedition, was left in the hands of his arch enemy Peron and the barely more sympathetic Freycinet, and in the first edition of 1807-16, Baudin’s name is not even mentioned except to accuse him of causing all the misfortunes which befel the expedition. The first edition was complete in two parts: 1. The ‘Partie Historique’, 2 vols., 4to, text and 1 vol., 4to, atlas; and 2. The ‘Partie Navigation et Geographie’, 1 vol., 4to, text & 1 vol., folio, atlas. The very rare second part was not re-published but was available from the publisher of the present second edition, as indicated by the note on the verso of the half-title of vol. I: “On trouve chez le meme libraire la partie ‘Nautique et Geographique’ du Voyage aux Terres australes, par M. Louis de Freycinet; 1 vol. in-4, et atlas gr. in-fol.” This second edition of the ‘Partie Historique’ prepared by Freycinet was extensively revised from the first edition, and the maps of the Australian coastline with the French names which had preceded the publication of Flinders account, owing to his long imprisonment on Mauritius, were dropped from the atlas to be replaced by 25 new plates. Many of these new plates are of great importance to Australia, including 5 more portraits of aborigines to complement those which had also appeared in the first edition, the plate of aboriginal drawings and another of aboriginal music. The three plates of Africans also are new to this edition, as are 14 of the Timor plates, several of these in exquisite colour. #9759

74  Tasman, Abel Janszoon: ABEL JANSZOOON TASMAN’S JOURNAL of his Discovery of Van Diemen’s Land and New Zealand in 1642, with Documents relating to his Exploration of Australia in 1644. Being Photo-lithographic Facsimiles of the Original Manuscript in the Colonial Archives at the Hague, with an English Translation and Facsimiles of Original Maps, to which are added, Life and Labours of Abel Janszoon Tasman, by J. E. Heeres, LL.D., Professor at the Dutch Colonial Institute, Delft, and Observations made with the Compass on Tasman’s Voyage, by Dr. W. van Bemmelen, Assistant-Director of the Royal Meteorological Institute, Utrecht. Thick demy folio, Facsimile Edition; pp. [xii], [196](photo-lithographic facsimile of Tasman’s original Journal; last blank); [2], 60(translation into English of Tasman’s Journal; last blank); [2], 164 (text of Heeres’ Life of Tasman, & Appendices, last blank); [2], 22(Bemmelen’s Observations; last blank), [2](Errata, verso blank); 5 folding charts (in pocket), including a representation of the famous TASMAN MAP OF 1644, but with names translated into English; also 53 pages of maps & illustrations reproduced from Tasman’s original drawings in the Manuscript Journal; 22 appendices in English & Dutch parallel texts; original full buckram, gilt; a fine copy in slightly browned dustwrapper; scarce. Los Angeles; N. A. Kovach; 1965. Hill, page 288. Originally published in Amsterdam, 1898 by Frederick Muller (see Ferguson 16722; Hocken, page 1; Bagnall T107) this facsimile, limited to 225 copies is a fine production in its own right. As is well-known, Tasman sailed on an exploratory voyage “for the discovery of the unknown South-land” on behalf of the Dutch East India Company, resulting in the discovery of both Tasmania and New Zealand. It is perhaps less well-known that the expedition also sailed through the Fiji islands and north of the Solomon Islands and made a coastal survey of the north coast of New Guinea. #21864

Tukey, J. H. AN ACCOUNT OF A VOYAGE TO ESTABLISH A COLONY AT PORT PHILIP IN BASS’S STRAIT, on the South Coast of New South Wales, in His Majesty’s Ship Calcutta, in the Years 1802-3-4. By J. H. Tukey, Esq., First Lieutenant of the Calcutta. London, Printed for Longman, Hurst, Rees, and Orme, Paternoster-Row; and J. C. Mottley, Portsmouth. 1805. Demy 8vo, First Edition; pp. xvi(last Errata), 212(last blank), [2](title to addenda, verso blank), 215-[240](Addenda, last advert.); old half calf, with marbled sides; a fine, clean copy, complete with the half-title; rare. London; Longman; 1805. Ferguson 418; Hill 1723; Wantrup, page 83; Borba de Moraes, page 870. With the signature of A. C. Arnold, Jan. 6th, 1806 on the title-page. Tukey was First Lieutenant of the Calcutta, commanded by Captain Daniel Woodriff. This account describes the expedition, led by David Collins, which was to found a settlement at Port Phillip, but the attempt at settlement was soon abandoned in favour of the Derwent River in Tasmania. Tukey, however, surveyed and charted the bay and its environs before the expedition left, and his account is the only contemporary published account of the abortive settlement. The Calcutta was accompanied on the voyage from England by the Ocean, a merchant vessel chartered to carry stores for the colonisation scheme. En route to Port Phillip the Calcutta visited Teneriffe and the Cape Verde Islands, Rio de Janeiro (of which a long account is given, including the slavery), Tristan d’Acunha, Cape Town and Simon’s Town, and the Island of St. Paul. Appendices include a List of Plants found at Port Philip (sic). Meteorological Journal for October-December at Port Philip, observations on the Timbers of New South Wales, and observations respecting selection of Convicts for transportation, and on the means of preserving health on the voyage. Tukey later published an account of the first scientific expedition to the Congo or Zaire River. #5023 A$9500.00
76 Wagner, Henry R.  SIR FRANCIS DRAKE’S VOYAGE AROUND THE WORLD.  Its Aims and Achievements.  4to, Facsimile Edition; pp. [ii], xii, 544(last blank); 9 folding map plates, 4 portrait plates, 61 text illustrations (maps, charts and views), extensive notes, 8 appendices, bibliography, index; original green cloth; a fine copy.  [Amsterdam; N. Israel; 1969].  First published in San Francisco by John Howell in 1926, this important analysis of Drake’s voyage and many of the documents relating thereto is very scarce in its original edition.

78 Walter, Richard [& Robins, Benjamin]. A VOYAGE ROUND THE WORLD, In the Years MDCCXL, I, II, III, IV. By George Anson, Esq; Commander in Chief of a Squadron of His Majesty’s Ships, sent upon an Expedition to the South-Seas. Compiled From Papers and other Materials of the Right Honourable George Lord Anson, and published under his Direction, by Richard Walter, M.A. Chaplain of his Majesty’s Ship the Centurion, in that Expedition. Illustrated with Forty-Two Copper-Plates. London: Printed for the Author; By John and Paul Knapton, in Ludgate-Street. MDCCXLVIII. Thick Royal 4to, First Large Paper Issue of First Edition; pp. [vi], [xii](list of Subscribers), [xvi](Contents & Introduction), 418(last blank), [2] (Directions to the Binder); 12 folding charts, 2 folding plans, 28 folding plates; original roan-backed marbled boards; (joints cracked, but cords firm; boards very slightly rubbed; spine ends worn with small portion missing from foot); ENTIRELY UNCUT, AS ISSUED; a very fine, clean and crisp copy; EXTREMELY RARE in such condition. Printed for the Author; by John & Paul Knapton; 1748. Tew 1, noting (in an unpublished bibliography) that this Royal Paper issue is very rarely found. As for the standard issue on demy paper, the earliest issues of the First Edition were published without the world chart which was not done until later issues. While Lord Anson’s own copy (and some others) do have the world chart, most copies of the First Edition (on both sizes of paper) are without it and it is not included in the list of charts and plates. This copy is entirely undisturbed in its original binding and clearly never had the world chart. Page 319 is misnumbered 219 as in the standard issue. There is a contemporary Ms. correction on page 14, and contemporary inked initials on the title page - E. H. - suggesting that this copy belonged either to Sir Edward Hawke (Vice-Admiral of the Blue) or to Edward Hooper, as these are the only two subscribers with these initials. There are 373 subscribers to this, the Royal Paper edition and very, very few copies will have survived in their original publisher’s binding as here. This Royal Paper issue is truly a magnificent production with generous margins and thicker, superior paper. While not a particularly uncommon title, copies of the Royal Paper issue, entirely undisturbed, are of extreme rarity. This, the official account of the famous voyage, was immediately immensely popular, and ran to many editions. The list of subscribers to the First Edition occupies 12 pages, closely set in three columns to the page. Many of the illustrations are from drawings by Lieutenant PIERCY BRETT, who was placed in command of the captured Manila galleon, and who also contributed to the relation of the voyage. The expedition was considered a successful venture owing to the capture of the richly laden Manila galleon, but over 1000 lives were lost and out of seven vessels only the flagship Centurion returned. The contribution to geographical knowledge was negligible. Renard 1669 (THIS copy).

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS:

This is our seventy-seventh short list. We hope you find something of interest.

We intend to produce many more in future on a variety of subjects and we would prefer where possible to send these by email as PDF file attachments or links to files on our Website. This has the obvious advantage of reducing costs and enhancing the speed of delivery and the email/PDF versions will also be enhanced with colour illustrations. A fully illustrated version of this list in pdf format is available on our website or will be emailed on request. Likewise we encourage you to send orders by email, fax or telephone.

If you would like to receive future lists please indicate your interests by email (preferred) or by using the form below by fax or post. If you would like to receive ALL lists (email only) please let us know also. If for any reason you do not wish to receive any more of these lists, also please let us know and we will cease and desist.

We have experimented with a number of forms for emailing orders to us but many security systems now prevent such links from working correctly so we suggest simply emailing us at: books@GastonRenard.com and copying and pasting the entries of the items you want from the list above. If you encounter any difficulties, please let us know! For orders by fax or by post please use the Order Form at end.
